Prospective Student Athlete - PSA

A prospective student athlete is a student who has started 9th grade of high school

Unofficial Visit

- Any visit by you and your parents to a college campus paid for by you or your parents. The only expense you may receive from the college is admission into a home athletics contest. You can make as many unofficial visits as you want and may make them at any time. The only time you can't talk with a coach is during the dead period.
- Coaches and Athletic Departments can't participate in unofficial visits until September 1st of athlete's junior year in high school

Official Visit

- Any visit to a college campus by you and your parent paid for by the college. The college may pay or or some of the following expenses:
 - Transportation to and from the college
 - Room and meals (3 per day) while you are visiting
 - Admissions to home athletic contests
- NCAA allows 5 official visits (max. of 1 per college) for D1 schools and unlimited official visits for D2, D3 and NAIA schools.

National Letter of Intent/ Letter of Commitment

- The National Letter of Intent (NLI) is used to indicate a student athlete is committing to participate at a National Collegiate Athletic Association colleges and universities in the United States

Eligibility Center

- The NCAA Eligibility Center certifies whether prospective college athletes are eligible to play sports at NCAA D1 or D2 institutions. It does this by reviewing the student athletes academic record, SAT or ACT scores and amateur status to ensure everything conforms to NCAA guidelines.

Key areas to focus on as you begin your search for the right college program:

- Academics
- Soccer opportunities
- Size of the school and community
- Location to home
- Cost of attendance

Social Media

What you post on social media is important and can go against you.

Points to remember

- Your social media profiles will be looked at by coaches and is often the first interaction they have with you
- Your social media reflects your character. Don't let a post cost you scholarship money.
- Think before you post as nothing you post is private.
- Post clips of you training, practicing, soccer related person before we offered him.

In your freshman and sophomore years of high school, you may:

- Receive brochures for camps
- Receive questionnaires from college coaches
- Call coaches but may not receive calls from coaches

In your Junior year of high school, you may:

- Receive recruiting materials and information from coaches beginning June 15th
- Call Coaches
- Receive calls from coaches beginning June 15th
- Have electronic correspondence beginning June 15th
- Take unlimited unofficial visits beginning September 1st
- Take official visits beginning September 1st
 - 1 official visit per college
 - a maximum of five visits to D1 schools
 - unlimited visits to D2, D3 and NAIA schools

As a high school senior, you may:

- Receive information from coaches
- Call or be called by coaches
- Have electronic correspondence with the coach
- Have off-campus contact (no more than 3 times)
- Take unlimited unofficial visits
- Take 1 visit per college, a maximum of five visits to D1 schools
- Unlimited visits to D2, D3 and NAIA schools

Division 2 schools do not have any rules for the number of evaluations permitted per student athlete.

- College coaches can't contact the prospective player on competition or practice days until the event or practice is over.
- During a contact period, coaches can only make one visit to a high school per week

Division 3 schools are the only schools with out a set recruiting calendar.

- D3 coaches can contact and recruit high school players without dead periods, contact periods and quiet periods.

Q: Should I attend ID Camps?

A: Yes, but choose wisely. They can be a great opportunity to visit a campus, talk to staff and be evaluated by coaches. Day camps are more beneficial than overnight camps.

Q: Should I speak to my club about my college search?

A: Yes! Please talk to your club and Director of Coaching and keep them informed about your college search. They will be some of your best resources.

Q: Do I have to register with the NCAA Eligibility Center?

A: Yes, if you want to play NCAA D1 or D2

Q: Do I need to use a recruiting service?

A: No, unless you personally know the person that is promoting you personally, it is not worth the money.
